

Flood Menace Moves South; Over 20,000 Are Homeless

(By The Associated Press)

Floods menaced new areas in the south and the Pacific Northwest today but they showed signs of easing at danger points in the midwest.

More than 20,000 persons are temporarily homeless by the floods in the Mississippi and Ohio river valleys.

Rising floodwaters of the Mississippi river and its tributaries brought new trouble in Arkansas and Tennessee. But the big river appeared surging to a crest upstream from Charleston, Mo., at the edge of the threatened Birds Point-New Madrid floodway.

24 Below Zero Today

The biting cold which had gripped wide sections of the country moderated today but there were some sub-zero readings. The cold moved into the northeastern part of the country and the mercury dropped to 11 below zero at Caribou, Me. But it was colder in International Falls, Minn., —24 below.

Temperatures also were climbing in the Pacific Northwest ending a week of severe cold. The weather has been blamed for 17 deaths in the area since last Friday's blizzard.

Army engineers watched the Mississippi at Cairo, Ill., one of the danger points. It was expected to crest at 55.5 feet. Army engineers have said if the waters stay below 57 feet the 212-square mile Birds Point-New Madrid spillway probably will not be flooded. Some 11,400 residents of the floodway already have left their homes after engineers warned it might be necessary to open the front-line levee near Charleston and flood the area. The flooding would ease pressure on Cairo and other more populated areas along the river.

6,000 Have Fled Homes

Some 6,000 persons have fled their lowland homes in Arkansas and 3,100 others evacuated.

New evacuations were being made in Arkansas and Tennessee as the Mississippi and other streams continued to rise downstream. Some 6,000 persons have fled their lowland homes in Arkansas and 3,100 others in Tennessee. Rescue operations continued in both states.

The flood threat of the Wabash river at Vincennes appeared ended and the army and Indiana National Guard units were to quit work.

FIND BODY OF GEORGE HOCKER

The body of George F. Hocker, 63, formerly of Steelton, forging and casting sales manager for the Bethlehem Steel company, was retrieved from the Lehigh river Thursday afternoon by members of the plant patrol searching the area since the sales executive was reported missing January 10.

Police Capt. M. J. Fox said there was every indication that Hocker had committed suicide. The body was found less than two blocks from his office in mid-city Bethlehem.

Born and reared in Steelton, Hocker had worked for a number of years at the Bethlehem Steel company plant in Steelton before being transferred to Bethlehem sometime before 1920.

Son Of Minister

Hocker left his office in the Bethlehem Steel company's main office at noon on January 10. When he failed to return the next day it was found that he had stripped his clothing of identification marks, left his wallet in his desk and that on the day before he had mailed a sum of money to his housekeeper. He had been in ill health for some time.

He was a son of the late Rev. Mr. Hocker, who for many years was pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Steelton, and Mrs. Hocker. He was graduated from Steelton high school and Gettysburg college, and worked for a number of years in the forging division of the company in Steelton.

While in Steelton, Hocker married the former Miss Virginia Bell, daughter of the late James A. Bell of Steelton, and Mrs. Bell, who is now residing in Seaford, Del. Mrs. Hocker died about 11 years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Hocker Potter, of Seaford; a son, George, of Santa Fe, N. M., and two brothers, John of Washington, and the Rev. Luther Hocker.

HONOR FORMER S.S. TEACHERS AND OFFICERS

Twelve persons who survive from among those who served as officers and teachers of the St. James Lutheran Sunday school in the first 50 years of its history were honored Thursday evening at a banquet celebrating the 110th anniversary of the school. About 200 attended.

The banquet was held at the church with C. C. Culp, who is serving his 23rd year as general superintendent of the school, as toastmaster. Mr. Culp, a grandson of Jeremiah Culp, who was one of the original 83 students when the school was founded January 19, 1840, has served longer than any of the 21 other superintendents of the school.

The Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putnam, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, was the guest speaker.

Reviews History

Mr. Culp reviewed briefly the history of the school, which was founded 110 years ago with George Shryock as the first superintendent. The school held its sessions in a stone school building where High Street school now stands. It held morning and afternoon sessions there until it moved in 1842 to a church building on the site of the present Reformed church. Morning sessions were discontinued in 1855. The first school enrolled only adults, Mr. Culp said, but a primary department for children seven years and over was started in May, 1842. The school now has more than 1,300 members with a teaching and administrative staff of about 90.

Former superintendents honored Thursday evening included: W. C. Storrick, superintendent in 1894, and former Judge E. P. Miller, superintendent (Please Turn to Page 2)

At the next regular meeting, Mrs. Eva Boose, district president, and several members of the Hanover VFW Auxiliary will be guests of the local chapter at a covered dish luncheon.

The next District meeting will be held at Spring Grove in March on a date to be announced later.

Officials of the Adams County Infants Paralysis fund's current March of Dimes campaign today expressed their gratification at the response of car owners to the campaign inaugurated this year of sending coin cards asking donations from owners of private vehicles in the county.

Codori, York street, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign. Donations contained in the cards have ranged from ten cents to $10, with the average being slightly over $1.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

Sometime in the early future Pennsylvania veterans will receive approximately $200,000,000 as their share of dividends from their G.I. insurance. Uncle Sam will pay out to all veterans some $2,500,000,000. Soon after that payment Pennsylvania will pay out more than $400,000,000 in state bonus to state veterans.

Instead of "blowing in" the whole amounts of their insurance dividends and state bonus, it would be the best part of wisdom if veterans put aside at least the major part of this bonanza in some safe place for use at a later date. And Uncle Sam is asking the veterans to reinvest part of this windfall in United States Savings Bonds.

National Cherry Week (a mighty fine thing for Adams county) will be observed February 15-22. The observance is simultaneous with the annual tribute to our first President George Washington who, legend says, cut down a cherry tree and then told his father he couldn't tell a lie. He admitted the alleged deception.

You can help observe Cherry Week and at the same time help your own county cherry growers by featuring some choice bits of food made with cherries.

Like men's neckties and shirts, automobile license plates for 1950 carry the trend toward brighter colors. The old drab hues have generally been discarded for more cheerful colors, the variety of which runs the length of the spectrum. Orange, gold, chrome yellow, royal blue, red, bright green, lemon yellow, silver, light blue, cream and straw are among the shades used.

Cheerful combinations include yellow on blue for Pennsylvania; silver on blue for Nevada; green on white for Colorado; blue on orange for Florida; black on lemon yellow for Ohio and so on.

Consumer family purchases of household furniture and furnishings during 1950 will reach a total value of $9.9 billion, according to an estimate reached by the National Chamber of Commerce's Domestic Distribution Department, based on research-developed calculations.

CO. PROBATION OFFICER GIVES YEAR'S REPORT

Men directed by the Adams county court to pay support orders for their wives and children turned over $49,795.85 to the county probation officer during the year ending December 31, 1949, the completion of the audit of the probation officer discloses.

With approximately 140 support orders on the records, that amount would indicate that the average male ordered to provide support paid approximately $356 to keep his wife and youngsters. County Probation Officer C. Arthur Brame indicated however that there is no such thing as an average. Some do not make any payments—living outside the jurisdiction of the court; while others are up to the minute with payments that may run as high as $30 a week.

The audit showed that $54,290.56 was paid into the probation office during the past year, more than $11,000 more than the $43,199.53 paid in during the 11 months of 1948 during which the office was in operation under its present organization. The 1948 report showed $40,088.62 as the amount paid on support orders.

The amount of fines and costs collected increased. The 1948 report showed $2,455.32 paid into the office for fines and costs; while in 1949 $3,492.05 was received. The fines and costs paid into the probation office do not constitute all fines and costs collected by the county during the year, Brame noted. Only fines and costs placed on the installment plan are handled by the probation office. Fines and costs paid outright are turned in to the clerk of courts.

Restitution payments which include such things as doctors' bills, medical bills, and the like, as well as restitution of moneys or articles stolen, totaled $1,002.66. During 1948 the amount was $655.69.

In addition to the 140 non-support cases, about 60 probation and parole cases were also handled by the probation officer during the year.

New York, Jan. 20 (P)—A government prosecutor today likened Alger Hiss to Benedict Arnold, Brutus, the devil and Martin T. Manton, a Federal jurist convicted of "selling justice."

Mr. Winebrenner was taken ill about 12:30 p. m. Wednesday. He worked part of that afternoon, later returning to his home. On Thursday he went to the borough shed, but was forced to go home again.

Members of the family said he was suffering from a stoppage of the upper bowel, believed caused by adhesions from a former operation. He was being fed intravenously.

URGES HISTORY OF FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

Compilation of a history of Adams county's fraternal organizations was suggested as a sequel to the project by Robert Sheads Thursday evening in a talk on Adams county's history given at the regular meeting of the Gettysburg Moose lodge, held in the Moose home on York street.

During the course of his address at a program marking the lodge's celebration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the county, the high school teacher said, "While we have investigated the history of our schools, our county government, our roads, our inns, and practically everything else, very little has been compiled concerning our social, fraternal, veterans, patriotic and similar organizations. The combined membership of the various groups in Gettysburg alone might total 8000 to 9000, possibly more. Here is a very important part of our community life that is being neglected in our compilations of history so far."

Growth Of County

Sheds' talk gave details of the founding of the county, evidences of Indian visits to the county before the white man arrived, details concerning early settlers, military activities on the part of countians in various wars and details concerning the establishment of the various boroughs in the county. Adams county's population when it was founded in 1800 was 13,000, he said, "now it is approaching the 50,000 mark."

At a business meeting held prior to the sequel-centennial program, the lodge agreed to send two teams, 12 men, to the Moose state bowling tournament to be held at Lancaster over week-ends between February 25 and April 30. Michael Tate, head of the athletic committee, was authorized to select the 12 members of the Moose bowling teams who will make up the two squads in the state tournament. The men will be selected in the basis of their averages in the Moose league competition. Last year, Tate reported, the bowlers representing the local lodge won nearly $400 in prizes at a state tournament.

The lodge voted a $100 contribution to the March of Dimes and voted to purchase two sponsor tickets at $5 each for the Valentine dance to be held by Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The local sorority is holding the Valentine dance to raise funds for the Adams county free library, Moose Secretary Charles L. Lauer said.

The Epsilon Delta chapter was also granted permission to use the ballroom at the Moose home for a fashion show in the spring.

Governor Clifford Harmon and Secretary Lauer were authorized to attend a Governors and Secretaries Conference to be held February 24, 25 and 26 at Pittsburgh.

SPORTSMEN TO GET PHEASANT RAISING PENS

The Adams county Fish and Game Association, meeting Thursday night at the court house here, announced plans to raise its own pheasants for stocking purposes starting this winter.

A 40 by 150 foot pre-fabricated pen was ordered and William Dentler, Cashtown, agreed to handle the raising of the birds. Fifty-nine pheasants, 32 of them hens, have been secured, it was announced, as breeding stock.

Members of the association agreed to meet February 11 at the home of Mr. Dentler to put the pen together. The group will start work at 9 o'clock in the morning on that date and will continue throughout the day if necessary to construct the pen.

A number of members volunteered to act as solicitors to secure prizes for the annual Sportsmen's fair to be held by the association March 3 and 4 at Cashtown. Complete committees for the fair will be named at a meeting of the directors to be held January 30 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of the president, Harold Desardorff, Fairfield R. D.

No Place To Hunt

Adams county is rapidly reaching a point where there will be no place to hunt, members seemed agreed in a discussion held on the "posting problem." Each year more and more farmers have posted their lands against hunting, the sportsmen reported, and this past hunting season the number of farms posted seemed to have reached an all time high.

The members indicated if their discussion that they had no argument against the farmers; not only did all those present agree that excesses on the part of hunters warranted the increased posting of land, but many said they plan to post their own lands next year against other hunters.

PACK TOYS AT LEGION HOME

More than 2,000 toys were packed at the American Legion home on Baltimore street Thursday night by members of Vulture Locale No. 731 of the Forty and Eight for shipment to children in Europe.

The toys were those donated to the Albert J. Lentz post, which sponsored, with Legion posts throughout the state, the "Project TOT," the "Tide of Toys" for war-stricken countries overseas.

The gifts were packed in large cardboard cartons and taken to the plant of the Adams County Novelty company this morning to be crated for shipment to Philadelphia. There the toys will be placed aboard ship with millions of others collected by Legion posts throughout the United States.

Today marked the close of the toy drive, which opened December 26.

Packing of the toys by Forty and Eight members followed the regular January promenade of the vulture, held at the Legion building, with Chief de Gare Raymond W. Spahr presiding. Routine business was conducted, followed by a roast beef dinner.

EXPERIMENT IN COURT ROUTINE IS TRIED TODAY

The Adams county court inaugurated what it termed an "experiment" this morning, when it removed hearing of desertion and non-support cases from the court room.

After other business of the court had been completed, Judge W. C. Sheely noted that "the court is going to try a new experiment this morning. Instead of holding hearings on desertion and non-support cases in the court room, as has been the practice for years, we will hold the hearings in the law library. All persons here for support cases are to remain in the court room until they are called back to the law library for the hearings with which they are concerned."

"We are trying this experiment because we believe that the principals in desertion and non-support cases will feel freer to speak under less formal conditions than obtain in the court room, and the fact that they are not facing an audience will also give more ease to the principals in these family cases."

Given 30 Days

The first case heard under the new system was that of George Riggs, Gettysburg R. 3. Riggs was directed to pay $10 a week for the support of his wife and child, ordered to enter into a bond of $500 on his own recognizance, and directed to pay the costs.

During the part of the session held in the court room this morning Sylvester E. Redding, Littlestown, was sentenced to 30 days in jail, fined $50 and ordered to pay the costs on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors. His jail sentence will begin as of January 1, the day he was taken into custody and placed in jail to await trial. He had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Three accounts were confirmed. A charge of surety of the peace brought against Maurice Harman, 58 Breckenridge street, was dismissed after Mrs. Harman asked leave to withdraw her charge and Harman agreed to pay the costs.

JOB OUTLOOK IN PA. GROWS BLEAK

Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—The job outlook in Pennsylvania is growing more bleak.

The State Employment Service estimated today there are now about 452,000 unemployed persons in the commonwealth. This is more than double the 222,000 unemployed listed at this time a year ago. And the prospects for any immediate improvement on the job front are not bright.

A J. Caruso, executive director of the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation, said the current unemployment upswing will probably continue through March before tapering off.

Caruso cited reduced operations in the coal mining industry as a major factor in the unemployment rise. Cutdown on coal production, he said, has served to cut down jobs in many industries affected by coal shortages.

Hardest hit areas in the state on the unemployment front are the Johnstown-Altoona area, Scranton-Wilkes-Barre area, Pottsville, and Greensburg, Caruso said.

The unemployment director said the millions of dollars being given to veterans in bonus payments and in national life insurance dividends are expected to give business a shot in the arm in Pennsylvania and elsewhere. This, he said, should bring considerable relief to the unemployment picture.

SPORTSMEN TO

manipulation on the part of many Adams county hunters are responsible for the increase in posted lands, the members said.

Most members said that farmers who had posted land will permit individual hunters to hunt on that land if approached properly and if the hunter observes the rules of good sportsmanship.

Suggest Solutions
"You can't blame the farmer for wanting to know who is hunting on his land," one member pointed out. "And you can't blame the farmer for not wanting many hunters to be on his land. Far too many hunters have had no regard for the safety of the people on the farm, nor have they had any regard for property. It is not pleasant to have bullets whizzing around your house, or to have hunters destroy your fences, or other property."

Three possible solutions to the problem were suggested. The first is to have individual hunters ask individual farmers whether they may hunt on the farmer's land. This system works out well in practice, members said.

A second solution suggested by President Deardorff would call for the fish and game unit to rent 1,000 acres of land for hunting purposes, have the members pay to use it and use the money thus raised to purchase game for restocking.

A third solution would be to seek the cooperation of farmers in establishing safety areas which could be posted on farms—thus the area around barns, homes and the like would be posted against hunting, but outlying pastures and fields would be open.

Whether it is profitable to purchase western rabbits for restocking purposes will be determined April 12 at a meeting of the county Federation of Sportsmen's clubs. Donald Weikert, representative of the county Fish and Game association to the federation said.

Committees Named
Experiences of various sportsmen's groups indicate that so many western rabbits die following their release that it is not a profitable venture, Weikert said. He added that a special investigation is being conducted by the county federation and reports on the findings will be correlated at the April meeting.

Named by President Deardorff to the pheasant committee, which will have charge of the raising and placing of pheasants during the year were Harry Kane, Fairfield; Raymond Hoke, Biglerville; Richard Golden, Gettysburg R. 5; Francis McClellan, Gettysburg R. 3; Donald Spensler, Biglerville R. 2, and Ross Deardorff, Oortanna.

Selected for the rabbit committee, which will have charge of securing and placing rabbits in the association's area were Bruce Gallagher, Cashown; Donald Weikert, Gettysburg R. 2; George Martin, West High street; Kenneth Sites, Fairfield; Earl Chramer, Gettysburg R. 5 and Ross Deardorff.

The next meeting of the association will be held February 16 at Bonneauville.

HOLY NAME MEETING

News Briefs

Paris, Jan. 20 (AP)—Raids in the underworld slums of Marseille and Paris have netted five of the bold gang who ambushed and robbed the Aga Khan last August. French police announced today.

The leader of the gang and his sweetheart, police said, have been murdered, apparently in a falling out among the thieves. But two of the gang still are missing, and with them the loot—$500,000 in jewels stolen from the Aga and his wife, the Begum, in the daring daylight holdup of August 3 near Cannes.

Johannesburg, South Africa, Jan. 20 (AP)—Police reported $84,000 worth of diamonds destined for Saudi Arabia disappeared last night from a Johannesburg airport safe. The small packet of 1,014 diamonds was reported missing a half hour before the plane on which they were consigned was to take off.

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson asserted today that the draft act was "one of the decisive factors in stopping the spread of Communism in Europe."

Pleading for extension of the law now due to expire next June, Johnson told the House Armed Services Committee: "Termination of Selective Service could well be interpreted abroad as an indication that this country does not consider the international situation as serious as previous arguments in favor of the foreign military aid program and the North Atlantic Pact indicated."

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—President Truman's tax program was reported today to call for a roll-back in excise tax rates and a "moderate" increase in corporation taxes—the whole aimed to bring in upwards of $1,000,000,000 more government revenue.

One good source said it may not call for any increase in individual income taxes. Mr. Truman will put his program before Congress next week in a special message.

Lake Success, Jan. 20 (AP)—A big majority of the 59 United Nations is expected at the next General Assembly to repeal the ban under which most member governments have withdrawn ambassadors or top-flight ministers from Franco Spain.

Union, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP)—Flames fanned by a brisk wind today swept through the large American Shuttleboard company plant on Route 29 and caused damage estimated at $300,000. Dense clouds of smoke swept over the heavily traveled highway, interrupting morning automobile commuter traffic. Some cars were driven through the acid smoke until police diverted autos to other routes.

ZOO CROCODILE OPERATED UPON

Cincinnati, Jan. 20 (AP)—If Cleopatra just could talk—she'd wreck you with stories about her operation.

But Cleopatra is a 600-pound Nile river crocodile so she isn't saying much.

In fact she's still a bit lethargic from the anesthetic given her. But that operation produced six pop bottles, some of them broken; 38 rocks, some of them as big as baseballs; several marbles; a rifle shell and a china elephant.

Cleopatra is one of the animals at the Cincinnati zoo and, seriously, the operation performed on her yesterday was one of the most unusual in wild animal history.

Some weeks ago zoo attendants figured Cleopatra had swallowed a pop bottle. Attendants said a crocodile's digestive tract is very small so they doubted if she could digest the bottle. Cleo began losing her appetite so an operation was deemed necessary.

For three days they've been giving Cleo drugs to subdue her. Yesterday six husky men were pressed into service to help hold the crocodile to the "operating table."

They drove to Princess Andre's estate outside Lausanne.

Unbeaten Bison Wrestlers Here Saturday; Cagers At Bucknell

Only two Gettysburg college athletic teams face action on Saturday, mid-year examinations having curtailed the winter sports program this month.

Clyde Cole's wrestling team clashes with unbeaten Bucknell in the local gymnasium Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in what promises to be one of the best bouts on the home schedule.

Bucknell has disposed of Lafayette, Delaware and Haverford. Against Haverford the Bisons won five matches while the Bullets took seven from the same opponent.

Four Bison grapplers are veterans from a good Bucknell team last year. They include Stainsby, 136; Stanton, a six-foot 145-pounder, who was barely beaten by Dick Samsman of the Bullets in the semifinals of the Middle Atlantic last year; Rickard, who will wrestle in either the 155 or 165-pound bracket, and Johnson, outstanding heavyweight.

Coach Cole will stick to his same line-up which will include Looze, Andrews, Woods Samsman, Reigel, Soult, Diehl and Hersberger.

The Bullet varsity basketball team will journey to Lewisburg for a return game with the Bisons at 8:30 p. m. Earlier this year Gettysburg won a 73-71 decision here.

Coach Jack Guy of the Bisons is reported to be devising a new style of defense aimed at Bucky Harris. In three previous games with Bucknell the Bullet ace scored 77 points and in the last game poured 29 tallies through the hoop.

To date Coach Hen Bream's charges have split even in 10 starts. Their only engagement next week will be Saturday night when the University of Pittsburgh will be met in the Smoky City.

The Conewago VFW basketball team of Arendtsville dropped a 53-43 decision to the Emmitsburg VFW cagers Thursday evening at Emmitsburg. Spence paced the Conewago team with 15 points while Carter and Myers led the Emmitsburg aggregation.

INFLUX OF NEW PLAYERS MAKES SOX LOOK GOOD

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—There's a new deal cooking at Comiskey park where Frank Lane, aggressive general manager and Jack Onslow, capable field leader, combined their talents to make the Chicago White Sox the most improved club in the American League last year.

The influx of a flock of good-looking newcomers makes the White Sox future look even more promising this year. Strengthened by a couple of trades that brought Hank Majeski, hard-hitting third baseman and Nelson Fox, young reserve infielder from the Philadelphia Athletics, the Sox also will exhibit some of the minors' best at their Pasadena, Calif., spring training base.

Onslow is confident the team will be much improved over last year. "I think we've made much progress toward improving the ball club for 1950," the 59-year-old skipper said. "We've deeper in pitching, we have more and better catching, we have added some infield help and I'm sure (Gus) Zernial is going to be all right." (The big outfielder was out most of the 1949 season because of a broken collar-bone).

Carrasquel At Short
The Sox are deep around the infield with Charlie Kress and Gordon Goldsberry at first base, Cass Michaels and Fox at second, the veteran Luke Appling and Alfonso Carrasquel at shortstop and Majeski and Floyd Baker at third.

The White Sox are purported to have paid Brooklyn $30,000 for Carrasquel, the shortstop who toiled for Port Worth last season. The Venezuelan, a cousin of Alex Carrasquel, former White Sox pitcher, batted .315 in the Texas League and was regarded as the best defensive infielder in the circuit. Branch Rickey of the Dodgers is said to have offered double the money to get him back.

While Zernial is the big Sox hope for batting punch, Onslow thinks he has a surprise outfielder in Bill Wilson, purchased from the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League.

Outfield Hopes
Other outfield hopes include Herb Adams, Gerry Scala, Grover Bowers, Bill Higdon and Jim Busby. All have been up for a look before. Among the infield newcomers, Fox, Goldsberry, Carrasquel, Jim Baumer, a bonus kid shortstop up from Waterloo, Ia., and Rocky Krschik purchased from Memphis, are the best bets.

Two newcomers—Bill Salkeld from the Boston Braves and Joe Erazut, drafted from Baltimore—will vie for a catching berth with veterans Don Wheeler and Ed Malone.

The Sox are well off in pitching. Their nucleus is Bill Wright, Billy Pierce, Bob Kuzava and Randy Gumpert. They may get another starter in Ken Holcombe, a 19-game winner at Sacramento last year. Another sleeper may be Bill Connelly, a fireballer drafted from Toledo where he hurled a no-hitter.

Hanover Quintets Play Here Tonight

This evening the Gettysburg high dribblers will wind up their first half home season of the South Penn league by meeting Hanover high.

Although the Nighthawks have won but one of five league contests, they are expected to furnish keen opposition to the Warriors, Coach Bernie Thrush has a veteran quintet that has been showing signs of hitting its expected stride and may do just that tonight.

At 6:45 o'clock Coach Howard Shoemaker's junior varsity will meet the Nighthawk reserves.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Alfalfa Club Guest: John D. Keith, Esq., was a guest at the annual dinner of the Alfalfa club at the Willard hotel in Washington, D. C., Saturday evening. President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Will Rogers were special guests at the dinner.

George H. Earle Takes Oath: (By Staff Correspondent) Harrisburg, January 15. With spirits as bright and high as the January sun which beamed down throughout the entire trip, Adams county's delegation to the inauguration of Governor George H. Earle arrived in Harrisburg at 10:32 o'clock this morning.

Leaving Gettysburg at 9:01 o'clock with more than 300 persons aboard, the special Reading excursion made its first stop at Biglerville, where a delegation of 50 men and women boarded the train.

Most of the court house and county officials were in the delegation. Many of the Adams countians witnessed the induction of Governor Earle, while others began forming at 16th and Market streets for the inaugural parade which started as soon as Governor Earle was inducted.

Each of the Adams countians wore a paper sash bearing the words "Adams County," and a paper chrysanthemum. Two large banners designating the group from Adams county were carried alongside the marchers.

Among those attending the ball at Zemblo Temple mosque were State Senator and Mrs. John S. Rice, Attorney and Mrs. W. Clarence Shively, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, Mr. and Mrs. Radford H. Lippy, all of Gettysburg; County Chairman Frank X. Colgan and daughter, Miss Kathleen, of McSherrystown; Carl Kane, of Franklin township, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Martin, of Fairfield.

Countians Wed on Wednesday: Miss Alice Weikert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Weikert, of Fairfield, and Herbert Orner, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Orner, Biglerville R. 2, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the parsonage of St. John's Evangelical-Reformed church, Fairfield, by the Rev. G. Howard Koons. Edwin Weikert and Bruce Orner were the attendants.

Fraternal Lodges Help to Promote Peace: "Foreign countries are spending more for armaments now than any time in their history," United States Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, said in an address at a banquet commemorating the birthday anniversary of Thomas Wilder, founder of Odd Fellowship in the United States, at St. James Lutheran church Wednesday evening. A crowd of 326 persons was in attendance.

Other speakers were Congressman William A. Pittenger, of Duluth, Minnesota, grand sire of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, and Congressman Wilburn Cartwright, of Oklahoma, grand master of the lodge in his state.

Judge Donald P. McPherson was toastmaster. The invocation was given by the Rev. L. B. Hafer. The Rev. Spencer W. August pronounced the benediction.

Group singing was led by Miss Florence Mae Stewart.

First Old Age Pension Checks Received: Twelve aged and dependent residents of Gettysburg and Adams county, both men and women, on Friday received their first checks from the state under the old age pension law, Miss Margaret McMillan, secretary of the Mothers' Assistance board, which passes on applications for the pensions, has announced. The dozen men and women who received the checks were the first in a group of 38 passed upon favorably here and in Harrisburg.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

OBSERVATION

Books, for me, have always been an enjoyment and an uplift, but I have learned far more from observation. The greatest books are so because of their writer's skill and gift of observation. Observation has conceived our greatest novels, biographies, and Nature lore.

One of the most original of writers once told me that he never read a book, that he preferred to write only from what he saw. These eyes of ours are our greatest guides to learning. Our naturalists wrote books from what they saw and learned, and from their books we are stimulated to do likewise.

The characters that Dickens put into his books were actual people with whom he came in contact. So were those that O. Henry put into his New York stories. The books of such writers live for they remind us of people we meet right along. Both Dickens and George Gissing wrote of the poor of London; but Dickens saw his people on sunny days and Gissing on the dark days.

The late O. O. McIntyre owed his great popularity to the fact that he made himself the small town reporter in a big city—writing of the little things he saw that most people missed seeing. He wrote about people who would be interesting to those folks back home. He told them about his strolls, the interesting people he met, what they wore, what they did and how they lived. Little items that those very folks would notice.

Every person every city, every street in every city, and everything in all nature is interesting. We all observe different, but that doesn't matter so long as we keep seeing something. There is so much to see! I can still see the cones from a pine tree that were scattered about the lawn of a beautiful southern estate. The man who was its inspiration, called my attention to the cones and said: "Aren't they beautiful!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tools."

JUST A GAME

I like to win the games I play,
But whether I have lost or won,
Whatever be the sport, I say:
I only play a game for fun.

I do not play for argument,
I stop when quarrels are begun.
To work for money I'm content,
I only play my games for fun.

I'd hate to quit a game in shame;
In bitterness to have it end,
I'm happier to lose a game
Than win and lose a friend.

Sam Snead Is Man To Beat At Long Beach

Long Beach, Calif., Jan. 20 (AP)—Sam Snead, zipping with two victories in a row in the new 1950 golf wars, looked like the man to beat today as the better known professionals headed into their first round of the $10,000 Long Beach open.

The lesser knowns launched Long Beach's second annual tournament yesterday and veteran Bob Connolly of Seattle led the way home with a two under par 69 for the par 35-36-71 Lakewood Country Club course.

Star of today's show was Snead, who defeated Ben Hogan Wednesday in a belated play-off for the Los Angeles open crown, and just previously tied for top honors, with no-

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN MARTYR

By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D.
Margaret C. Gold

Acts 6: 8-15; 7: 54-60

Memory selection: Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life—Revelations 2: 10

A young Jew in the Apostolic Age

Age set a pattern for Christian courage and forgiveness. Meeting opposition to the Christian church, but the pattern was not confined to the early church and Stephen, the spiritual and spirited deacon-hero of our lesson, was only the first of Christ's believers who suffered death for his faith. He simply heads a long list of Christian martyrs. These noble "witnesses for Christ" include most of the Apostles, many unknown Christians of the early church, reformers of the Middle Ages, many missionaries and a great number of Christian leaders of our own generation caught in the maelstrom of a war-beset world. Even William Tyndale met a martyr's death because he dared to translate the Scriptures into English.

Christianity still faces its foes and triumphantly. Russia and her communist satellites are still waging war on religion. Communists in China oppose the Church but the worst opposition there lies in the indifference and ignorance of its people.

A New Office

As long as the believers in Christ (the Way) remained a distinct community things at Jerusalem were comparatively peaceful. They worshipped regularly in the Temple but also spread the gospel story. Complaints came from some of the Hellenistic Jewish converts that their widows were not receiving their share of alms. Consequently, the Apostles appointed a new class of officers called "deacons" and selected seven worthy men to look after the poor.

Stephen was named for this work which proved to be the first social welfare service done by the Christians. Not satisfied with doing only charitable work Stephen developed into an eloquent speaker "full of grace and power." As he was a Greek-speaking Jew he found himself at home in their particular synagogues.

Charge and Defense

Some members of these Hellenistic Jewish synagogues objected to Stephen's preaching and argued with him. They disagreed with his teaching that God was God not only of the Jews but of the Gentiles, and that His worship was not restricted to any one place. So Stephen's enemies secretly secured false witnesses who accused him of blasphemy against God and Moses and he was brought before a group of the Sanhedrin. They employed the same methods used at Jesus' trials.

Stephen's defense is the longest speech in Acts and is given prominence because of its emphasis on the universality of Christ's message. His address may be called An Apology to the Jews. He traced Hebrew history to point out that their fathers had disobeyed Moses, persecuted the prophets, betrayed and murdered their Lord. When Stephen accused them of ill treating Jesus and called them "stiff-necked" his fate was sealed. Even as the Council sat gnashing their teeth in anger they observed that Stephen's face shone like the face of an angel. He was not alone.

Mob Fury

Stephen was filled with the Holy Ghost and looking up saw a vision of God with Jesus standing at his right hand, suddenly all reason and conscience left the threatening mob as they rushed toward him. They "stopped their ears," cast him out of the city and stoned him in a deep pit.

Stoning was the usual form of capital punishment prescribed by Hebrew law but was supposed to be sanctioned also by Roman law. While they were stoning him outside the city, for inside was "holy ground," Stephen prayed. Kneeling there quite oblivious to the maddened crowd, he cried out loudly, "Lord, do not hold their sin against them." It was an echo of the Master's words on Calvary, "Father, forgive them."

Saul Approved

Probably the greatest single effect of this persecution was upon a young man Saul who witnessed Stephen's martyrdom and approved it. The garments of the active witnesses lay at his feet as he watched, wondering at Stephen's quiet courage. In "The Apostle" by Sholem Asch the author discusses the psychological effect of this event on Saul. This experience may well have been the beginning of a change in Saul's thinking which later culminated in his complete conversion. When Saul became a Christian he spoke to himself on this occasion as being "the chief of sinners."

The murder of Stephen began a new epoch in the infant church. No longer was the Christian community safe in Jerusalem. They were dispersed into Judea and the neighboring provinces of Samaria and Galilee and there spread the Gospel. This persecution thus accomplished the very thing the Jewish authorities wished to avoid—a wider extension of Christ's Gospel.

Questions on the S. S. Lesson

1. Who have been martyrs in our time?
2. What office did Stephen hold? Did he preach?
3. What was the essence of his preaching?
4. Who tried Stephen? Where was he stoned?
5. Who observed and approved the stoning?
6. What was the result of this persecution?

Answers

1. Christian leaders in Europe.
2. Deacon. Yes.
3. God is God of both Jews and Gentiles.
4. Some of the Sanhedrin. Outside Jerusalem.
5. Saul, later known as Paul.
6. Christians were dispersed and the Gospel spread further.

"ALL FARMERS ARE INVITED"

STRIKE CREEPS INTO RANKS OF PA. DEMOCRATS

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—An undercurrent of strife crept through the ranks of Pennsylvania Democrats today on the issue of choosing a candidate for governor.

It was still too soon, however, to determine if any split would materialize to the proportions that has broken the Republican party into two openly warring factions.

The behind-the-scenes division among the Democrats centered around the possible gubernatorial candidacies of U. S. District Judge Guy K. Bard of Lancaster county and Richardson Dilworth, Philadelphia city treasurer.

All Back Of Myers
In contrast, there was complete unanimity behind the re-election aspirations of U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, Philadelphia.

The first show of hands on the Bard vs. Dilworth contention will take place at a meeting of the Democratic State committee here February 1, although it seems unlikely there will be any actual slate-making. The meeting may be set back to February 4 because of the press of hotel accommodation on the earlier date.

The name of the 54-year-old Bard has been advanced in some Democratic quarters as a figure who would appeal to the rural vote—a prime Democratic objective in 1950.

Bard comes from Denver, in richly agricultural Lancaster county, as compared to the Philadelphia home of Dilworth. His supporters claim that Dilworth's candidacy would work to a disadvantage for the party geographically since Myers also lives in the Quaker City.

A "Hot" Candidate
On Dilworth's side of the ledger, say his backers, is that he a "hot" candidate, fresh from an outstanding victory in traditionally Republican Philadelphia. He won out for city treasurer by an overwhelming margin over the GOP organization last November.

Neither has announced yet. The only Democratic gubernatorial candidates to announce are two Reading residents—Clarence Bowers, battery manufacturer, and Mayor John S. Davis. All will run independently of the organization.

A group of Pittsburgh Democrats has come out for M. A. Musmanno, former Pittsburgh judge and a member of the war crimes tribunal in Germany. Also mentioned for governor here is Judge W. Russell Carr of Fayette county and Joseph J. Lawler, Scranton, third assistant postmaster general.

FINNS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF PRES. PAASIKIVI

By EDWIN SHANKE
London—The re-election of President Juho Kusti Paasikivi, Finland's oldest active statesman, demonstrates again the almost defiant, stubborn independence of the hardy Finns—a nation of 4,000,000 living in the shadow of the Red colossus.

Despite a communist pressure campaign, the Finns chose once more to place their independence in the fire but capable hands of a man who helped build the little republic after the first world war as its first prime minister.

Though almost 80, he still is the dominating personality in Finnish politics. "The Old Man in the (Presidential) Palace" talks the Russian ways. He sees the need for good relations with a big neighbor, but without sacrificing treasured liberties.

Moral Bulwark against Reds
Through the critical years of Finland's independence he was the man the Finns most frequently chose to deal with the Russians. He began his political career as a radical but shifted to conservatism and is now regarded above party politics without party affiliation.

He commands Russian respect. While he knows what the Russians want, he knows, too, what his people want—the right to live in freedom, free to deal with West or East.

That may be a reason for communist desires to see him out of the way. Their eventual aim is to tie Finland tightly into the Russian bloc of satellites. And if ever there was a moral bulwark against Russian pressure, it is Paasikivi.

The Russian note demanding surrender of 300 alleged Russian "war criminals" and charging Finland with a breach of her peace treaty in the midst of the presidential campaign was regarded as an open pressure move in support of the Finnish Communists.

The outcome of the election undoubtedly will drive Finland's Communists to a new wave of agitation—especially because they face the prospect of again being kept out of the government, although they registered some election gains.

Trapei, Formosa, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists declared Thursday the blockade of Shanghai is a big success and extended their efforts at the same time to the south China coast.

The south coast blockade, extending from the border of Indochina east to Yangchiang, 150 miles southwest of Hong Kong, was not as formally stated as the Shanghai blockade, but the idea was the same.

Among the earliest weights were seeds of grain—and a "grain" is still used in weighing gold and drugs.

Pittsburgh and Congressman Francis E. Walter, of Easton—are expected to be the final arbiters on who eventually will be the organization candidate. None of the three, however, has tipped his hand in the direction of any particular candidate.

It is expected that Judge Harry M. Montgomery of Allegheny county will have the inside track as the candidate for a seat on the state Supreme court left open by the death of Justice Marion D. Patterson.

Montgomery's surprisingly good showing last November in losing a race for a post on the state Supreme court bench by less than 35,000 votes to incumbent Judge William E. Hirt, Erie Republican, apparently has assured the Pittsburgh Democrat of another crack at a state judicial spot.

FOOD FOR 145 MILLION AMERICANS

It takes about 2 acres of farm crops to supply the 1,375 pounds of food which the average American eats a year. To grow and get this food to your table requires money all along the line and bank credit provides a major share of the funds. Perhaps you haven't thought of it just this way, but the money you deposit helps build a credit pool, which directly or indirectly supplies loans to farmers, farm machinery manufacturers, seed and fertilizer dealers, distributors and food markets.

Topflight Investigators Streamline Nationwide Hunt For Boston Desperadoes

WORKING UNDER ORDERS FROM HEAD OF FBI

Boston, Jan. 20 (AP)—Topflight investigators commanded by the nation's crime chief streamlined their hunt today for Boston's million dollar desperadoes.

Under orders from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who took control yesterday, experts involved in the investigation co-ordinated activities. They considered the possibility of setting up a central office to sift clues.

Two more money bags—the fifth picked up since the robbery—were found in Milton early today. Police said one bore the wording "Property of and should be returned to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York." The other bore no lettering.

Possible Clues

Boston police said they would pick them up as possible clues in the Boston holdup. They were found in a driveway by two Milton policemen.

Directives from Hoover's office criss-crossed the nation to FBI branches in key cities in the hunt for nine bandits who seized a million dollars in cash and a half million in checks at the Brink's Armored Transportation company garage Tuesday night.

Local FBI agents were assigned today to a co-ordination session at the office of Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, Crack state, local and private detectives also attended the meeting.

Few Thin Leads

As the manhunt entered its third day, investigators clung to only a few thin leads.

The seizure of a New Jersey convict with $1,762 dollars on his person in Miami, Fla., yesterday as a possible suspect was knocked down by local police.

Boston Deputy Supt. John F. Daly said, after talking with Miami police, that the man apparently had no connection with the local holdup.

U.S. NEAR BREAK WITH BULGARIA

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Diplomatic relations between the United States and communist-dominated Bulgaria were reported close to a breaking point today following a Bulgarian demand for recall of the U. S. minister there.

The demand for the recall of U. S. Minister Donald R. Heath was handed to the State department yesterday by the Bulgarian charge d'affaires, Dr. Peter Voutov.

Reading township, sold to Paul E. and Dora N. Miller, same place, a 96-acre property in that township.

Although the department withheld details of the note pending preparation of a reply, it was understood that the Bulgarians said that Heath was unwelcome in their country.

This sudden latest thrust in diplomatic duelling which has been going on for months was met with reports here that formal diplomatic relations with the communist Balkan country are likely to be severed, probably today.

Bulgaria and the U.S. have been at odds since the Sofia government sprang up behind the iron curtain in early postwar days. The U.S. has backed several charges in the United Nations that Bulgaria gave haven and support to guerrilla forces warring against Greece.

The United States and Britain have charged that Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary have violated their peace treaty guarantees of fundamental human rights.

SAYS H-BOMB LIKELY TO BE MADE AND USED

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Mankind has been trying to play God for a long time. Soon it will have the chance to play the role out to the last curtain fall.

The new hydrogen bomb—the latest demon in our long cosmic comedy—is already muttering on the horizon like an off-stage actor waiting to rush on and bring the action to a final climax.

The uranium bomb of 1945 was just a horse-and-buggy bomb. It could devastate an area of only 10 square miles or less—and kill only 100,000 people under pretty ideal conditions.

Sees Bomb Race

The hydrogen bomb itself may be 1,000 times as powerful as the uranium bomb. It will devastate 50 square miles—perhaps 100—and could theoretically easily kill 1,000,000 people or more in large cities.

Quite an argument for a place in the country, isn't it? But what country?

There will be great argument over whether the hydrogen bomb should ever be built. But since science knows no boundaries anymore than does the wind, the technique of making one will be no secret. And since any large country could make one, each will begin making them as a protection against each other.

Self-defense has become a 20th century tower of Babel and panic. The decision to build the hydrogen bomb was made long ago. It was made when the first man thrust a spear in anger through his neighbor—and the neighbor's boy went out and began making himself a spear. And the spears became bow-and-arrows, and they became guns, and men put wings on the guns and called them airplanes.

Sure To Be Made and Used
Yes, the hydrogen bomb is pretty sure to be made.

And if it is made the chances are 10,000-to-1 it will be dropped—sometime.

For it is unlikely mankind will give up its long passion for playing God. God—or the gods—set up a system which can both create life or cause death. So far man has preferred to imitate God chiefly in his death-dealing power.

The one chance in 10,000 that the hydrogen bomb won't be used lies in the possibility that mankind will cease apeing the jungle god of war and hate, and truly act as an image of the God of life, who stands in many languages for love and eternal peace.

Should Open Asylums

If the nations do start hurling hydrogen bombs in the earth's green valley, then in all honesty they should open the doors of all mental hospitals and let the inmates out.

Littlestown Purple Heart Vets' Commander To Visit

Commander J. Donald Lemmon was in charge of the regular monthly meeting of the Richard M. Palmer Chapter No. 303, Military Order of the Purple Heart, Wednesday evening in the American Legion Home, East King street. Plans were made to entertain the department commander, Frank Heidel, who will attend the next meeting of the chapter on Thursday, February 9. The time, the place and nature of the meeting will be announced as soon as plans have been completed.

It was decided by the chapter to conduct a cherry pie sale on George Washington's birthday, Wednesday, February 22. Announcement of the time and place will be made in the near future.

The laying of the cornerstone for the fire hall that is being erected by the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company, on the plot of ground given by Walter F. Crouse, along the

For the only reason we shut up people with sick minds is on the excuse that they might harm themselves or others—or that they can't adjust to life. But do our own actions justify us in judging them? The day the hydrogen bomb bursts every sick mind should be free to adjust to death.

NEW TRACTOR TIRE DESIGNED

A tractor tire of new design, named the Super Hi-Cleat, and with Littlestown-Taneytown road, will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, instead of today as previously announced. There will be a program of speaking and music held in connection with the event. The public is invited.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Basketball: Tonight, Littlestown at East Berlin (boys); Tuesday, Scotland orphanage at Littlestown (boys and girls); Thursday, New Oxford at Littlestown (girls); and Friday, Littlestown at New Oxford (boys). Each day next week, there will be an interruption of the school program at some time during the day, when a student, speaking from the office, will discuss some phase of Adams county history over the intercommunication system in the Junior Senior high school. This will be part of the school observance of the Adams county Sesquicentennial. Wednesday at 12:45 p. m., Junior high assembly, when the play written by J. M. Sheads, history teacher, Gettysburg high school, in commemoration of 150th anniversary of Adams county, will be presented by a Junior high cast and three prize winning essays on "Littlestown" will a new feature, the "Power-Curve" tread type which has been preferred by farmers, in numerous surveys, will give better drawbar pull, longer life, smoother ride and better pavement wear than the tire which it has succeeded, retaining all advantages of the old with the new improvements, according to the announcement.

Higher cleats for deeper penetration, extra traction, reinforced by the special "Power-Curve" are a feature of the new tire. The cleats are scientifically placed parallel to form a channel for natural self-cleaning without any obstructions.

The new "Power-Curve" tread is to be read, Friday, January 27, at 8 p. m., Underclassmen play, "The Uncertain Age."

so designed that tire life will be increased. Farmers who drive their tractors over highways will find that the ride is much smoother than formerly.

The channel formed by the "Power-Curve" cleats is exactly uniform in width from the center of the tire to the shoulders, which means there is nothing in the cleat pattern to block the free flow of soil from between the cleats.

Using extra high cleats, reinforcement is required for sufficient stiffness to allow deep penetration, and the new "Power-Curve" cleats permit this because the curve itself reinforces the cleat. This reinforcement also reduces "scrubbing" action on hard surfaces and increases the long wearing qualities. The shape also reinforces the cleat at the tread center area where maximum penetration is desired and where the wear is most rapid.

Outpulls other leading brands—because Power-Curve cleats are higher, tapered—bite in deeper, easier. The special curve braces the cleat and allows full traction without cleats bending or buckling.

Open center tread cleans better. Too, Power-Curve cleats are exactly parallel by mathematical formula. Result: channels between cleats are unobstructed, allow natural cleaning... AGAIN MORE TRACTION FROM THE POWER-CURVE!

You'll get up to a year of extra wear from Power-Curve, both in the field and on roads. Reason: new cleats are higher and new sidewall design employs a "furrow strip" or band of extra thick rubber where tires rub on furrows.
